Senate Maps Fight on Draft Age

CONSCRIPTION 30-YEAR LIMIT INSISTED UPON

60-Day Service Delay Finds Bitter Opposition From Administration.

War Department Ready For Registration as Soon as Bill Effective.

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON — Senate
leaders today mapped plans for a fight on the 21-44, inclusive, age limit in the house conscription bill and the Fish amendment requiring a drive for volunteers before the draft is made effective.

The measure which passed the house by a vote of 263 to 149 Saturday night after a five-day battle
now goes to conference for agreement upon differences between senate and house bills.

Both Sen. Barkley, Kentucky
Democratic leader, and Sen. Austin, Vermont acting Republican leader, predicted that the senate would insist upon retaining the senate age draft limit of 21-30, inclusive.

Administration leaders were bitterly opposed to the Fish amendment, adopted by the house by a vote of 207 to 200, which requires the president to seek 400,000 volunteers immediately and prohibits draft of men for a 60-day period.

This amendment, originally sponsored by Sen. Hayden (D), Arizona, was defeated by only two votes when it was first proposed in the senate, however, and it was possible that all administration efforts to knock it out of the bill might be rejected.

The other major amendment in disagreement is the number of draftees. The house limit is 1,000-000 while the senate limit is 900-000.

"I am sure that we can quickly reach an agreement and enact the bill into law," said Chairman May,
(D) Kentucky of the house military affairs committee. "We cannot afford to delay."

rectly flayed house delay in enact-

2 Die, 7 Hurt Near City, 9 Killed In Ohio

Wayne County Resident Fatally Hurt Near Crestline Sunday.

Two persons were dead and seven injured in the Richland county area as the death toll in traffic accidents mounted to at least nine in the state over the week-end.

John Mumaw, 78, of near Wooster, died of a fractured skull and severe body lacerations at the Crestline Emergency hospital, following an accident a mile west of Crestline Sunday morning.

Also dead was Frank W. Cupples, 41, of Canton, taken to Bucyrus hospital Saturday after he had crashed into a ditch near Bucyrus with his motorcycle. Cupples died Sunday morning without regaining consciousness.

The injured in the collision near Crestline were: A. H. Mumaw, 52, of near Wooster, a nephew of the man killed; Mrs.
Catherine Mumaw, 84, of Scotts-ville, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. M.
W. Faut of Lincoln, Ill. All were treated in the Crestline hospital for lacerations, bruises and shock.

The accident occurred when the car in which the Mumaws were riding collided head-on with the Faut vehicle on a curve just a mile west of Crestline police said.

Also injured in the Richland county area yesterday were John Burger, 12, John Long avenue, and Bertha Gates of Mansfield.

Burger was taken to General hospital after being struck by an automobile driven by Jacob P.
Tesch, 303 Third avenue. He was treated at the hospital for a compound fracture of the left leg.

Highway patrolmen said today that young Burger jumped off a guard rail where he was sitting with two companions and ran directly into the path of Tesch's automobile.

Bertha Gates received leg injuries following an accident in which a car driven by Robert Pugh, 25½ East Second street, skidded on the pavement two miles north on the Bowman street road last night and turned over.

Pugh, who reported the accident to the sheriff's office, stated that Miss Gates' injuries were slight.

Funeral services for Mumaw,
a native of Holmes county, will be held in Elkhardt Wednesday. He is survived by his wife, Lydia, five children and 12 grandchildren.

Killed in accidents over the state were:

Artist Envisions Nazi Air Raids On London

As Germany's air armada attempts to make good its threat of "blasting the British Isles beneath the ocean." Artist Lou Biederman graphically portrays the mortal air fight over London, heart of the British Isles. German bombing planes thunder over the House of Parliament. Big Ben most famous clock in the world, is still undamaged. British pursuit planes fly madly at the invaders, some of which are going down enveloped in flames, their crews taking futilely to parachutes.

The biggest defense appropria-

at the current congressional session past the $15,000,000,000 mark.

In addition to money for critical equipment for an expanding army,
the bill supplied funds to start

BELLEVEILLE N. J.—(AP)—This is a story about two trusting robbers who were left holding the bag

the bandits fled.

The one Wagner kept contained

GO ON SALE

New Drivers' Licenses Being Issued at Auto Club.

With today marking the day
drivers' licenses will go on sale throughout the state, lines already were forming at the Richland County Auto club this morning.

Although an accurate statement of the number of licenses issued by noon today could not be made by Auto club officials, the number was estimated as "substantial."

Officials pointed out today that this year chauffeurs will be required to submit new photographs before receiving their licenses. Persons applying for regular driving licenses will not need photographs.

The Auto club officers will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.
until the sale of permits closes Sept. 30. All drivers must have the new licenses by Oct. 1.

Mansfielder Rescues 3 From Lake After Their Boat Sinks

Two Toledo police officers and a retired policeman probably owed their lives today to O. J.
Wise, Mansfield, who pulled them from the choppy waters of Sandusky bay yesterday afternoon after their fishing boat capsized.

The three men had struggled for more than an hour in the rough water six miles from land before Wise saw them and rescued them.

Wise who is with the D. and
W. Auto Wrecking company in Mansfield, was in his motor cruiser when he came onto the men in the water.

The trio he rescued included
Clarence Faible, inspector of police in Toledo, Ed Dusing, Toledo police sergeant, and Fraze Smalley, retired police officer.

The Toledoans were fishing in the bay just north of Johnson's island when their boat capsized in the rough waves and went down. All of the men were able to swim and by conserving their strength they kept above the water until help arrived.

They were rescued in an isolated part of the bay not often used by fishermen and it was only by accident that Wise found them.

Two of the three men had been carried a considerable distance toward the shore by the waves, separating them from their companion. They were virtually exhausted when pulled from the water.

Terrific Bombing Attack Waged on City By Germans

BRITISH BOMB HAMBURG AND NEARBY AREA

German Papers Say Attack
Made on Populated
Part of City.

BULLETIN
LONDON—(AP)—Thirteen British bombers were lost yesterday and last night during widespread bombing operations against enemy ports and shipping, the air ministry announced today.

(By United Press)
BERLIN—British planes bombed the great German port of Hamburg and the surrounding district during the night and "dropped bombs on thickly populated residential quarters," newspapers said today.

The high command said that "British airmen last night directed attacks on residential sections of Hamburg, damaging several houses and killing several civilians."

The "total damage caused was only slight," the communique said.
It was asserted that the planes tried to force their way on to Berlin but that "all these attempts were shattered on the very massive German defenses, particularly anti-aircraft artillery."

Earlier Nazi informants had admitted that British planes had bombed western and northern Germany during the night.

The same informants said German planes after raiding London mercilessly all night had returned to the attack today but that during the morning hours their operations were on a small scale, partly because of cloudy weather, and they busied themselves largely with reconnaissance work.

It was indicated, however, that the German attack was still developing.

Nazis said that the German planes had rained thousands of

CLUE SOUGHT

Waitress Strangled to Death
With Own Stocking.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Police today
combed the fourth floor furnished room of Mary Martinez, 24, a waitress, for some clue to the slayer who strangled her with one of her own sheer silk stockings and left her body lying nude upon the bed.

Andrew Vasile, proprietor of the rooming house just off Times Square, discovered the body when he came to collect the past due rent. A gag made of a piece of cloth ripped from one of the girl's stockings was in the mouth and a table cloth was bunched about her head.

Day of Calm Follows Two-Day Terror; RAF Strikes Back With Raids on Nazi Port of Hamburg

BULLETIN
LONDON—(AP)—Nazi Luftwaffe raiders touched off London's first alarm of the day late this afternoon, breaking a 12-hour lull after a night of horror.

(By Associated Press)
LONDON—With the scars of front line warfare running right through their city of 8,600,000, Londoners counted a toll approaching 600 dead and 2,600 seriously injured after two nights of terrific bombing by Adolf Hitler's air force.

At the same time, the defiant Royal Air Force made mass raids of its own against Germany's great North sea port of Hamburg, where tons of bombs were reported to have started great fires Sunday night, and Hitler's barge concentrations along the French coast.

Given a day of calm after night-long bombings—up to 11 p. m. (9 a. m. E.S.T.) only a little anti-aircraft fire was heard when an unidentified plane flew at a great height—Londoners assessed the damage from the greatest raids yet carried out against the city.

Fires in every direction direct hits on air raid shelters, hospitals demolished reverberating explosions near the houses of parliament, crater-pocked streets, some disruption of transportation, dislocation of the dock area, and widespread damage to dwellings and business property in the east end and along the Thames were reported as the result of last night's "marathon" attack of nine hours and 40 minutes, the longest of the war.

Authoritative Royal Air Force quarters admitted it was "extremely difficult" to combat the raiders. They circled at great heights behind the protection of heavy clouds and rain.

Britain's dogged bomber force was reported by the air ministry to have set fire to a great swath of Germany's port city Hamburg, in a three-hour and 15-minute raid last night. Salvo after salvo of heavy bombs and hundreds of fire-spreading missiles were dropped by a large force, a communique said.

At the same time authoritative sources declared Hitler's plan of following up the London bombings with an invasion was being systematically broken up by British counterattacks on his concentrations of barges and boats at French bases across the channel.

In relays and singly the runspreading raiders struck through a clouded, lightning-streaked sky, guided to their targets over the world's largest city by the red glow of fires and the incessant thunder of the London anti-aircraft barrage.

The attack surpassed the eight hour and 18 minute raid by 700

TOUR: King George Visits Bomb-Torn Parts Of London

LONDON—(INS)—His face clearly showing the agony
he felt, King George toured the damaged areas of London and its outskirts today sympathizing with the sufferers and the bereaved. And when it was over, he turned to his adjutants and said:
"Everyone has been wonderfully brave."

The King's special escort was the Rt. Hon. David Euan Wallace, member of parliament from Hainsey a district of the east end
This section was among the worst hit during the week-end onslaughts by gigantic German war planes which cost at least 600 lives.

His majesty journeyed from Windsor, going first to the east end of London and then the southeast area.

At every stop he was accorded a tumultuous reception. He watched an aid precaution workers still fighting fires and searching for bodies, went into a shelter where homeless were being temporarily cared for and talked to women and children — many of them draped in bandages.

The King obviously felt keenly the tragedy particularly when he talked to women whose children or husbands had been killed.

King George spent considerable time in one of the hardest-hit districts in the east end. He climbed atop a huge pile of debris to look into London's biggest crater — a gaping mass 75 feet wide and 50 feet deep.

Begrimed ARP men still searching for bodies in this area leaned on their shovels and pickaxes for a moment or two to exchange a word of greeting with the king. It was there that he looked into the crater to a row of backless houses whose cheap furniture and personal effects were spewed out into the road.

RECESS: German Air Raids
Interrupted By Bad Weather

(By United Press)
BERLIN—Unfavorable weather interrupted massed Nazi air attacks on Great Britain today, but the German press warned that London might suffer the fate of bomb-shattered Walter if British raids on the Reich continue.

Even the usually conservative Hamburger Fremdenblatt declared that London's "astonishing 'sue-cess'" may be attacked by German bombers if British raids continue against Germany.

"The greater part of the English capital particularly the homes and amusement places of these circles from whose midst sprang the persons guilty of this war have intentionally been spared so far," the newspaper said.

"After the recent attacks of the RAF, however, against the civil population of the Reich one must conclude that the lessons thus far given by the German air force have not been taken to heart."
"The fortress of London is playing not as challengingly and just as fearfully with fate as did the fortress of Warsaw."

The newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said that "frequent raids on Britain would continue

Marriage Meddlers

I THINK you have the low down on her," Lillian drawled. "She's an unusually good nurse—although not in your class, darling,"—she intercalated with the ardent belief we all have in Katherine's capabilities—"and I can see that with her discovery of Edie's suicidal yen, she won't take any chances on moving her charge around any more than is absolutely necessary. She's probably lifting her soul right now in a silent paean of thanksgiving for your little study, Madge."

Coiffure, Hat Should Be Suited

By MME. QUI VIVE
Somebody is always cackling that silly question, "Which comes first, the hat or the hairdress?" The hairdress, of course. A lovely one is the making of a woman's appearance. Any man will tell you that the first thing he notices about a woman is her glorious crown. The arrangement must be precisely right. It must be neat as wax, it must be becoming, have chic and manner. There's a great difference in coiffures. They are like people—some are rowdy, some have dignity. The tousled topknot signifies sloshed grooming. Shining strands, beautifully arranged, tell the world that the girl who has them is dainty and fastidious. The girl with the long, narrow face who sweeps her hair back at the sides and ups it in rolls hasn't good sense; she only makes her face look longer. She needs a soft, low pompadour, a hat with a brim to give better lines to the facial contour. Observe the business-faced girl who puffs her hair at the sides, making her portrait look wider, and then tous her mental motors with a miffin hat. Somebody ought to tell her. By wearing the hair close at the sides and lifted in front she acquires more or an oval effect.

Bangs are becoming to the girl with a long, thin face and an exceptionally high forehead that bears a hair line that is not pleasing. A soft fringe with a single wave line is particularly attractive these days when the swept-up effect is seen everywhere. Almost any kind of a hat can be worn with bangs—a halo, a brimmed bonnet or a cunning little millinery doughnut with a single flower. A hat should be jaunty, no matter whether the wearer is twelve years old or eighty.

Don't Force Child To Talk

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS Ph. D.
INTELLIGENT parents are eager to do something at home to prepare the child before he enters school to get on well with books after he begins school. About the most important thing his parents can do for him is to cultivate good health habits in him, good routines, self-reliance and responsibility and skill at being happy with other children of his age. Yet some parents think they must do more. A few, alas, will try to teach them to read, spell and do number work. I wish they wouldn't. All too soon he will have such formal teaching at school. We should remember, too, that his eyes are poorly coordinated. Why tax his tender nerves so early? His parents should, however, if without undue stimulation, help him widen and enrich his experiences and keep alive his curiosity. They should answer all his questions and encourage him in free conversation and creative play. Also they should read and read to him, expose him to good music, and enjoy with him the beauties of Nature.

Learning at Play.
If at play he learns some or all the letters of the alphabet and number symbols with their meaning up to 10, very well. If he likes to draw just for fun, he might even profit from printing very large a few of the letters and number symbols. Unfortunately, however, some parents will set the little tyke to do such things as tasks and to tax him with the making of small letters and figures. If he makes them at all before going to school, let it be for fun and let them be several inches in dimension. In case there is a typewriter in the home he might profit from making a few letters or figures at a sitting with it.

The danger, of course, is that the ambitious parents will urge, even coerce, the little child and lose sight of his welfare to show him off. Then there are proud relatives to brag about him. The wise, calm, gentle parent may properly help the tot before he enters school to gain number concepts at play, even to match some of the smaller digit symbols with meaning. One good way for him to learn simple number meaning is to amuse himself in his own way with dominoes as someone casually calls to his attention the dots on each block. Also a good way to help him grow familiar with the number and relative order of the number symbols up to nine inclusive is to play Elfinch with him. I consider this a very valuable game for the child from four to eight or 10.

Really Don't Know.
Parents who will study the tot of four or five will discover that his knowledge of the meaning of numbers is narrower than most suppose and that often this child will say a number without knowing what it means. Often the child in the first, second or third grade has vague concepts of numbers over five or six. "Letting little children learn" is one of a series about the baby and young child, being simple presentation of university lectures I used to give to pre-school parents. A folder about the pamphlets may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it; also a

TAKING DISCARDS FIRST
If the declarer at a suit contract sees more losers in his hand than he can afford, which can be picked off by the defenders as soon as they get the lead, his job is to get rid of some of them before they have the lead. In such circumstances, if the trump suit is one in which they are either sure or likely to win a trick before all of the trumps are out, he should endeavor to shed the losers before tacking trumps. An ideal way is to discard them on the winners of some other suit, if he is fortunate enough to possess one in his own hand or the dummy.

With the heart K led against South's 4-Spades, and any of the four numbered hands as dummy, the declarer must get discards promptly before leading trumps, or risk being defeated.

When No. 1 is dummy, he counts one loser in spades and three immediate ones in hearts, if he leads trumps. But he can make his contract, after winning with the heart A, by taking dummy's three high diamonds, discarding two hearts on them, and then leading his A, and another club, before leading trumps. He will thus cut his losers to one in spades, one in hearts and one in clubs, ruffing his own third club when next in the lead.

When No. 2 is dummy, he plays exactly the same, except that he must try the diamond finesse first, as otherwise he has no reasonable chance to make contract unless he can luckily drop a doubleton diamond queen.

If No. 3 is the dummy, the best play, after winning the heart A, is to lead to the diamond A, then lead the diamond Q. If it is covered by the K, ruff and lead the club A, ruff a club and on the diamond Q and J discard hearts. If the diamond Q is not covered, discard a heart and hope East is holding up the A, if the hope is realized, continue leading diamonds for heart discards except when the K covers, then ruff.

With No. 4 for dummy, win the heart A, club K, diamond A, ruff a diamond, discard one of dummy's hearts on the club A, ruff a club, and lead a heart. Later ruff one heart high in dummy, and so lose only two tricks in hearts and one in spades.

CHAPTER XIII

"With you home this summer, Edwina, I don't have to worry about Norman's boredom with country life. We all go home eventually, don't we? Our roots are there, you especially. When one is as much a part of the development of a place as you are of Newton, it becomes a possession."

She thought: Why don't you ask me about Alan? You know about it. You were there the night of my coming-out party...

She said, "If you're responsible for Norman's coming down this summer, then I owe you a sincere vote of thanks."

He smiled. "You're welcome. Great person, isn't he? He'd hate the mutual admiration society but I know splendid things about him that aren't generally known. He's modest and generous to a fault. Sometimes he covers up modesty and generosity with flippancy. His friends know better."

"And elusive with women?"

Dick grinned. "He's had to be."

A moment later she said, "You'll find things changed somewhat in Newton. Some people we used to know have moved away and there are a good many new faces at the club. The usual marriages and children and a couple of divorces that shocked everybody." Meeting his eyes briefly, she said, "Alan Harding is a member of the Club. He's done extraordinarily well for himself. The bright hope of Newton—or something like that. He has a good practice and a beautiful fiancée."

Dick looked at her soberly. "Really? But he's quite deserving of it, don't you think, Edwina? That boy has worked like a dog."

"I don't know, I'm not sure yet. I... Norman doesn't know about Alan and me, Dick. I'd rather he didn't know."

"Sure. Why dig up a youthful folly? Are you going to stay in Newton permanently now?"

Her deep breath was almost a sigh. "I don't know that either. But if I could come down this summer and bring Cornelia with you, I'll be delighted to have her for a guest. She's very lovely."

"Thank you, Edwina. I think she's lovely, too."

Returning to Dick's guests and sitting on the low beige divan beside Cornelia, Edwina tried to conquer the nervousness and restlessness that had seized her. Time was rushing by so quickly she could almost hear it when she closed her eyes, she saw the valuable antique desk in a drawing room at home, one drawer of which stuffed with bills, was locked. Financially she would not get through the summer when did your creditors begin to pursue you? She sat up quickly, knowing that she could not permit desperation to spoil her disposition, her looks or her plans.

As Edwina tried to listen attentively to Cornelia telling of her recent experience with a summer stock company, she told herself that soon she would be safe. A few months hence and she would be forever safe, for—ever protected by Norman who was speaking now with the refugee musician in fluent German. Their lives, hers and Norman's, would be a series of evenings like this, dinner and then quiet conversation with people who would not come and go but would remain steadfast friends. And she would never be alone again. Her name, a name she had put in headlines and one familiar to scores of people she would never know, she would gladly relinquish. The end of Edwina Burke, the legend of her, the lies about her, the jealousy and the beginning of Mrs. Norman Alexander. At such moments when she felt an overwhelming desire to cease being what she was, she almost loved him and almost forgot that she had to marry him for his money.

Later she talked with the publisher and his wife, thinking that never before had she cared what people thought of her; but now it was important for Norman's friends to think well of her. She found the time spent with the musician delightful. A few years ago she would have helped him arrange a concert for him and now she could do nothing. But a few years ago she had lived to take and not to give and everything had been squandered and wasted.

It was past one o'clock when Norman was driving her back to her hotel.

"I'm going to be here a little longer than I thought," he said, "over the week-end in fact. You haven't anything to take you back, have you? Why not stay over, too? Dick and Cornelia and you and I will find something to do."

"It sounds grand. Of course, I'll stay. But you haven't changed your mind about going back to Newton for the rest of the summer?"

He chuckled. "No. Back I go on Monday though I'm fit as a fiddle. The powers that be want to be sure that a healthy specimen returns in the fall so that they can go away with free minds. By the way, we're going swimming out to the quarry when we get back. It looks good and cold. The club swimming pool is no place for anyone who like to swim."

She laughed. "Democratic aren't you? I like the quarry, too. The water is deep and cold. It's spring water, you know. Who told you about it?"

"Carol Tallant," he said and then closed his mouth firmly over her name.

At her hotel he went as far as the elevator with her and then—glow and the auditor were gone. "It's going to be rather a big one with all the trimmings. Alan spoke to her, she asked him to repeat what he had said and meeting his eyes apologetically, she saw a mild reproach."

"The last time I talked with you about it you hadn't made any plans about your wedding," Ellen said. "You should, Carol. Even a small wedding requires a lot of planning."

"It isn't going to be a small wedding," Carol said, her thick, fair lashes against her cheeks, girls here but I can't include them all and favoritism causes hard feelings."

"Oh, I don't mind. I'd rather be an onlooker, in fact. Less wear and tear and more fun. I want to give you a kitchen show—er for your new house and I'm saying old shoes to tie to Alan's ear. You're a lucky girl, Carol. The luckiest one I know. You haven't any struggle ahead. When Ted and I got married—if we ever do I'll have to keep my job for years and it will be years before we can afford a home, and then not out in the hills. But I don't envy you. Every one thinks that Alan is one boy deserving success and you."

LOANS WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $4.46 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, friendly service.

YOU can get a personal loan without red tape or delay—if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan at Household is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no bankable security—no endorsers or guarantors. You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. That you can choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.46 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $4.46 a month for thirty months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.26 each, or a total of only $105.04, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full.

Same rate to everyone

Installments shown in the table repay everything. These installments include charges at Household's rate of 2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $300. This rate is substantially less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

Simple to borrow

You get your Household Finance loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no stocks or bonds. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment

You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you, phone or visit us for further information. No obligation.

Three Major Issues Loom In State Political Campaign

GRAFT, PENSION AND ECONOMIES ENTER PICTURE

Bricker, Davey Trade Punches
on Graft Charges; Bender Helps at Washington.

By JOHN H. COLBURN

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Three major gubernatorial campaign issues—new graft charges, pensions and economy—emerged today in the van of a word-cracking Nov. 5 Ohio election battle.

Gov. John W. Bricker goes on the air tonight to add new fuel to political fires which blazed to new heights on sweeping Democratic promises to repeal the state sales tax—which touches the pocketbook of virtually every Ohioan—and guarantee old age pensioners $40 monthly incomes.

Bricker's 15-minute talk over a state-wide network will be the first in a series of weekly addresses. His Democratic opponent, former Gov. Martin L. Davey, will start similar broadcasts Sept. 16.

In brief, the chief issues lined up like this:

Graft—Before the Democratic state convention Saturday, Davey charged that there is a "liquor department" "shakedown racket," that a lawyer friend of Bricker represented distillers and that "the (the lawyer) and his gang may be paid by the case, or they may be paid in the form of attorney fees." Bricker spokesmen replied "there is no shakedown," demanded that Davey explain what happened to "money the department must have earned," while he was governor and asked "Is that the money you are using to finance your campaign this year?"

Pensions—While Democrats promised larger old age pensions, Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) charged in congress that "somebody in Washington" "turns over Davey with a list of pensioners to help elect him. Previously State Welfare Director Charles Sherwood said that use of pension lists by Davey for political purposes violated the Hatch clean politics act. Davey termed it "all bunk."

Economy—Bricker's claims that he had cleaned up a huge deficit left by Davey and saved thousands of dollars through departmental reorganizations were disputed by Davey, who told his party convention that the chief executive resorted to "fraud" to show savings. Official records, Davey said, would show his expenditures in 1938 were $23,000,000 under those of Bricker in 1939.

Donald A. Fisher, liquor department administrative assistant, in a statement said that savings of $689,572 yearly had been made by firing Davey political workers from the liquor department and $234,000 yearly by taking a hauling contract away from a political firm which had no trucks.

"The liquor department earned $2,150,778 more in 1939 than it did in 1938 under Mr. Davey," said Fisher.

"Since Mr. Davey says his administration of the department was best in the nation, what did he do with the money the department must have earned under him?"

Ohio Equipped To Reduce Effects Of Paralysis Outbreak

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Dr. R. H. Markwith, state health director, declared "Ohio is better equipped than ever to reduce to a minimum the crippling effects" of infantile paralysis now in its worst Ohio outbreak in three years.

"Scientifically devised splints, of great value in averting deformities, have been made available to health commissioners in almost unlimited quantities," he said. Iron lungs are available for extreme cases, he added.

Expressing belief that the dead malady had about reached its peak, Dr. Markwith said the health department had reported 200 cases since Jan. 1 compared with 164 for all of 1939, only 55 in 1938 and 233 in 1937. Deaths this year have been 15 compared with nine for all of 1939.

MEETING SET

Finance Company Representatives
To Meet Here Tomorrow.

North Central Ohio Personal Finance companies will hold a dinner meeting at Westbrook Country club Tuesday, with Earl H. Hanford, executive secretary of the Ohio Association of Personal Finance companies, as speaker.

Companies from all surrounding counties will be represented at the meeting. Frank Smolzer of the Mansfield Daily News-Ledger company will be in charge. Approximately 30 members are expected to attend.

Nation Watches How Maine Goes Today

Two of the Democratic candidates for county offices are taking a ribbing from their friends for an incident that occurred while they were campaigning in Shelby the other day, but the candidates contend that all's fair in a political war as well as the other kind. The candidates, according to their own story, saw two women down on their knees, peering through a metal grate in the street. Thinking they had dropped something through the grate, the candidates offered to help. They found, instead, a small kitten had fallen through and was trying to get out. The men lifted the grate and rescued the animal. Then they gave the women their campaign cards and recited their spits.

Mrs. A. A. Hunter, 398 Wood street, doesn't know anything about mechanics but she's a willing helper. Yesterday she and her husband were going to take a drive but he wasn't quite ready. Inquiring if there was anything that she could do, Hunter asked her to fill the radiator of their car with water. Unknown to her, Hunter took the cap off the radiator and filled it up. It caused quite a delay in their trip because the fuel tank had to be drained before the machine would start. Their automobile is one of those where the gasoline and the radiator cap are located in the same region.

Happiest man in Mansfield over the week-end was Frank Gray, 513 Crescent road. Twenty years ago he and his wife separated, with Mrs. Gray receiving custody of their daughter. Since that time Gray had not set eyes on his child, but last week he received a communication from her, asking if she might visit him. Arrangements were made for her to come to Mansfield. She arrived Saturday and remained with her father over the week-end.

It doesn't take long for a racket to spring up once a seed is planted for it to grow on. Committees in charge of the West Fourth street fiesta found out today, George Satterlee, fiesta chairman, said he has heard reports that someone engaged in selling "tickets" for the event planned for next week in celebration of the re-opening of fourth street. There are no tickets being sold, and Satterlee has asked police to track down the "ticket sellers."

POLICE SHOOT YOUNG BURGLAR

Seek Shaker Heights Gang
Members; Flee From Back Door of House.

(By International News Service)
CLEVELAND—Police in Cleveland and suburban Shaker Heights today sought three additional members of a youthful gang of burglars after two 15-year-old boys were caught, one of them being shot before his capture.

The boys were caught as they fled the back door of a Shaker Heights home which, police said, they were burglarizing. The other three members of the gang escaped when they fled a side door of the house.

The two that were captured fled almost into the arms of Lieutenant Frank Maxon and Patrolmen Lawrence Horgan and Charles Beth of the suburban police. When the fugitives ignored commands to halt, Lieutenant Maxon fired one shot from his revolver, wounding one of the boys in the hand. The other was captured without a struggle.

The policemen were in the neighborhood after it had been reported burglars were in another house nearby.

It was believed the gang was responsible for a series of burglaries both in Cleveland and Shaker Heights. The two boys captured admitted at least five burglaries in the suburb, police said.

CAROL STARTS SECOND EXILE IN LUXURY BUT WITHOUT MONEY

LUGANO, Switzerland—(AP)—abdicated king's associates said, he is undecided where to go.

France, shaken by the European turmoil which jarred Carol from his throne, might attract him again—at least temporarily.

Some of his followers said Carol might go on to the Riviera after a short stay in Switzerland, and make his home at one of his chalets there until he made definite plans.

The wealth he had in Rumania was sequestered yesterday in a decree by the military dictator Gen. Ion Antonescu who forced Carol out and made the king's 18-year-old son, the former crown prince Michael, nominal ruler. Whether the holdings would be released eventually to the banished monarch or would be kept by the state was not disclosed.

WEST UNION—(AP)—A life sentence in Ohio penitentiary today awaited Thomas Blakenship, 68-year-old WPA worker of nearby Lawche, found guilty of the first degree murder of his wife, May Blakenship, in a Peables cafe on June 8. Judge E. S. Young said he would pass sentence tomorrow. The defendant appeared calm when the verdict was read.

Blakenship, charged with shooting his wife when he saw her dancing with Martin Smittle of Seaman, was sane at the time of the shooting, the prosecutor's star witnesses, Drs. Charles Kiley and Jack Hertzman of Cincinnati testified.

VOTERS PLAYING PRESIDENTIAL MAJOR PRELUDE

Republicans Urge Protest Against Roosevelt; Foes
Ask 'Confidence.'

(By International News Service)
PORTLAND, Me.—Political eyes of the nation were focused on Maine today as voters went to the polls to choose a U. S. senator, governor and other state and federal representatives in the nation's first major prelude to the forthcoming presidential election.

Although the long-standing adage that "no Maine goes, so goes the nation" was broken in 1936 when Maine and Vermont were the only two states to vote Republican, leaders of both parties sought signs and portents for November in today's balloting.

Republican orators in their final appeals called on Maine voters to make the election result a message of protest against President Roosevelt's third-term attempt and a harbinger of victory for Wendell L. Willkie. The Democratic speakers led by Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt and U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner, who made speeches in the state, urged a Democratic victory as a vote of confidence in Mr. Roosevelt.

The chief battle was fought for the U. S. senate seat of Frederick Hale who is retiring with former Governor Louis J. Brann the choice of the Democrats and Rep. Ralph O. Brewster, also a former governor, the nominee of the Republicans.

"Maine's message to the nation may have a profound effect in starting Wendell Willkie on his triumphant tour," Brewster declared in his concluding campaign address last night.

The candidates for governor were Sumner Sewall, Republican of Bath, president of the state senate, and Fulton J. Redman, Democrat, of Portland, a newspaper publisher.

AVIATION NEWS—

END COURSE IN FLYING DURING CURRENT WEEK

45 Enrolled in CAA Class To Meet Nightly to Complete Ground Training.

By ROBERT E. ROGERS
Forty-five boys and five girls enrolled in the Civil Aeronautics authority's civilian pilot training ground school at Senior high school will embark on a "cribbing" campaign tonight that will last for eight days.

Winding up a three-month course in little more than four weeks, the students during the next eight nights, including Sunday, will review the instruction given them by instructor James R. Harrington in nine subjects in primary ground study.

It will include a review of the history of aviation, theory of flight, civil air regulations, navigation, meteorology, parachutes, aircraft, power plants, instruments and radio uses and terms.

The final examinations, after which the 15 highest students will be awarded flight scholarships, will be conducted under the supervision of the Richland county chapter of the National Aeronautical association, sponsors of the CAA flight training here.

Examination papers, made up in question and answer form will be sent to NAA officials by CAA authorities and comprise a standard set up by the government to test the students knowledge of aviation.

With the examination out of the way, flight instruction for the lucky 15, including one girl, is expected to start at Municipal airport before Oct. 1, when NAA officials anticipate that another ground school will be initiated.

Four CPT students who have been flying for the past three months, members of the original ground school started here last spring when the government initiated its civilian pilot training program were awarded their private pilot licenses the past week.

They were: Harry Junker, Charles Bookwalter, William Hallum, and Edward P. Smith. Six others in the class, including Betty Thompson, the lone girl, are expected to pass the examination sometime this month, Harrington says. The five alternates still taking dual instruction are also expected to solo within the next few weeks.

And while on the subject of civilian pilot training it might be of interest to know that NAA officials here during the past week have been deluged with applications from all over the state from youths interested in enrolling in the non-college government course here.

Of course, NAA officials have notified them all that they cannot be accepted because they live outside the Mansfield district. One Columbus youth however, wants the training, so he has given up his job there and is coming to Mansfield to live.

Another Luscombe plane has been added to the Mansfield district fleet, making five of the ships now in this area. Delivery was made yesterday to three Ashlanders, Jake McClain, Leo Heyl and Herbert Smith. The new all-metal cabin plane will be hangared at Ashland airport.

National Youth administration officials which have under consideration a $40,000 proposal to improve the municipal airport, a project calling for leveling the field and resodding the runways, were at the port the past week and went aloft to look over the field.

State highway officials, who have designed a roadside park to be developed along the route 13 frontage of the port in connection with the proposal, say that the state will probably begin work about Oct. 1. They plan to transfer the NYA force at Charles Mill dam to the airport project.

County Sales Tax Receipts Above State Average.

Richland county is still well ahead of the rest of the state in gain in sales tax receipts over last year, with the county showing a 17 per cent increase as compared to the state-wide average of 11 per cent.

Receipts in the county for the week ending Aug. 24 amounted to $10,452, a gain of $1,100 over the corresponding week last year.

Sales tax collections so far in the county this year total $370,269, an increase of $54,213 over a corresponding period of 1939, State

THEATERS

Tender But Cyclonic Romance

A gay Greenwich Village lass and a handsome stranger win six thousand dollars on a jointly owned sweetstakes ticket and "Lucky Partners" is off to a hilarious and excitement jammed beginning. Ginger Rogers has the role of the impetuous young lady and Ronald Colman plays the part of a Village artist. From their delightful experiences arises a tender romance by the cyclonic arrival of the jealous boy friend and a courtroom trial disclosing the artist's past leads to the whirlwind windup.

Mystery Thriller.

The story of "Money and the Woman," which is showing at the Madison, concerns itself with a desperate attempt to loot a bank of $90,000. Jeffrey Lynn and Brenda Marshall have the leading roles. Wearing blond wigs, colorful dresses and sheer silk stockings, the Ritz Brothers do an impersonation of their co-stars, the Andrew Sisters, in "Argentine Nights," the second attraction.

Career of Abe Lincoln.

A veritable allegory of the growth of the democratic spirit in our nation a century ago is said to be shown in the life and career of Abraham Lincoln. This is graphically revealed in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," adapted to the screen, with Raymond Massey in the title role. "Sing, Dance, Plenty Hot," with Billy Gilbert, Johnny Downs, Ruth Terry and many other notables of the stage and radio, is the co-feature at the Park.

MacDonald-Eddy Film.

"New Moon" boasts one of the most varied and beautiful musical scores ever offered in a Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy production. This picture has a romantic and picturesque background in the days of 1780 in New Orleans. Going to a different type entertainment the co-feature at the Ritz for Tuesday is "Queen of the Mob" based on J. Edgar Hoover's book "Persons in Hiding."

FARMERS ELECT IN AAA TONIGHT

Choose Township Committees in 18 Districts; Meeting Set for Tomorrow.

Richland county farmers will hold an election of their own at 8:30 p. m. today, choosing township committees to administer the federal AAA program next year.

Meetings at which the objectives of the program will be outlined will be held in each of the county's 18 townships at 8 p. m. today. Voting will begin a half hour later.

Township committees chosen tonight will meet at AAA headquarters in Mansfield Tuesday to choose a county committee. The county committee will then elect a chairman.

Elections will be held at the township houses in Bloominggrove, Butler, Franklin, Jackson, Perry, Sharon and Sandusky townships. Other voting places include:

Madison township, AAA office on North Diamond street, Mansfield; Troy township, Lexington Grange hall; Weller township, Union school; Worthington township, Butler Grange hall; Cass township, Shiloh school; Jefferson township, Honey Creek Grange hall; Milfill township, Community house; Monroe township, Lucas school; Plymouth township, North school, and Springfield township, Ontario school.

USES HYMN BOOKS.

STOCKTON, Cal.—(AP)—The Better Business Bureau is looking for the creative genius of a new racket. The racketeers sell advertising space in hymn books, except that neither the hymn books nor the advertisements appear after the cash is collected.

Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported.

The increase in Ohio is approximately $3,200,000 over 1939, with receipts in the last week of August amounting to $31,719,630.

ALL THE DOPE ON ARMY DRAFT SET OUT HERE

Do You Have Any Questions? Here Are the Answers, And Good Luck to You.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A young man asks the army some questions about the draft:

Q What are my chances of being drafted into the army in 1940?

A Roughly, about one in 30. The odds may be longer. They can't be figured exactly until the senate and house get together on the final form on the draft bill, and the army can definitely line up its training program. Personal circumstances, too, will affect your chances. If you are not called, you will have another chance of being drafted next spring.

Q If my number is called, do I automatically enter the army?

A—No. You first must pass army entrance examinations. In the world war, the army was surprised to discover that one out of every four men drafted was unfit for service.

Q—What are the physical requirements for army service under the draft?

A—About the same as for the regular army—at least five feet four in height, weight over 115 pounds, a certain number of teeth, no lung trouble, general good health, no incapacitating or disfiguring deformities.

Q—Are there other tests to pass?

A—Yes. The army naturally demands a standard degree of intelligence. Recruits probably will have to pass the army classification test. But the rules may be broadened to admit men who cannot read or write.

Q—I've heard some talk that a man would be exempted if his job was considered a necessary occupation.

A—Not exempted, deferred. He might be passed over in the first draft, but called to the colors later. In the last analysis, every man is liable for military service in time of national emergency.

Q—On what grounds can a man ask that his service be deferred?

A—Essential occupation, dependents, physical condition, or a provision of the law which covers groups such as ministers, aliens, some government officials.

Q—What is a necessary occupation?

A—Military service may be deferred for a man who is an essential member of an essential enterprise, including essential agriculture. A local board will decide the issue in each case.

Q—Will the conscientious objectors be subject to the draft?

A—They must register. There again, a local board will decide the merits of the individual case.

Q—Then a man who seeks deferment will have to hire a lawyer?

A—No. "Advisory boards" of lawyers will furnish free advice.

Q—What about all these marriages in the last few months? Will all those fellows miss the draft?

A—The president will determine the policy on that; the individual case will come before the local draft board.

Q—Suppose the wife is working and able to support herself. Will the husband still be deferred?

A—That will be up to the local board.

Q If a single man is liable for the draft, but is the main support of his family, will he be deferred?

A Yes, definitely.

Q You're in the army now.

Q All right. I'm drafted. How much time will I have, after my number is called, to get things straightened out at home for my year of army duty?

A Probably about 10 days, or two weeks.

Q How much pay will I get?

A $30 a month, barring some last-minute change by congress.

Board Anticipates Passage of $290,000 Bond Issue For Additions, Repairs.

Anticipating passage of a $290,000 bond issue at the Nov. 5 election to finance improvements in the district school system, the which branch of the army I enter?

A Yes. Every man will be asked to specify what he desires.

Q—Will recruits serve their year at posts close to home, or far away?

A Some of each. In so far as practicable, a man will serve as close to home as possible.

Q—Will I be allowed to choose which camp I will serve in?

A—No.

Q—What happens to me at the end of the year?

A—You will be relieved from active duty and transported home.

Q—Then, are my responsibilities to the army over?

A—No. You will be a member of the enlisted reserve, subject to call in an emergency declared by congress.

Q—Could I continue my military training "on the side"?

A—Yes. By enlisting in the National Guard.

Q—What are my chances of getting my job back when my year of army duty is finished?

A—The law provides that a man shall be restored to his previous position and pay unless, in the case of private employer, "the employer's circumstances have so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to do so."

Q—How about company insurance and other benefits?

A—Under the law, they are not to be affected by your army service.

Q—What if I want to look for a new job?

A—When you are relieved from active duty, you will be given a certificate, giving a record of any special proficiency or merit attained.

Q—I suppose a few of the boys will try to dodge the draft.

A—I wouldn't advise you to try it. The penalty is five years in jail or a $10,000 fine.

600 KILLED IN LONDON DURING TWO-DAY RAIDS

RAF Strikes Back With Attack on Hamburg; Nazis Employ Dive Bombing Tactics.

Nazi planes Saturday when 400 persons were killed and 1,400 were injured seriously.

The London Press declared unanimously that invasion is the direct objective of the full force air war.

An air ministry official said September is "undoubtedly a very critical month of the war" and added that even if England had four times her force of fighter planes "it would still be impossible to prevent some of the bombers from reaching the capital."

As the grey dawn ended London's latest night of horror—the last raiders had disappeared shortly before the long alarm was lifted at 5:38 a. m.—the uncounted dead were still being dug from the wreckage of buildings and police and air raid wardens searched for delaying explosives.

Fires could be seen in almost every direction from the heart of the city. Stuka dive bombers curved their screaming attack to the center of London for the first time, plunging close to earth to direct their blasts.

Bombs fell near the houses of parliament in Westminster, which lie along Westminster Abbey and other landmarks. It was stated officially that the parliament buildings were not hit.

At least two time bomb explosions were reported. One damaged a hospital where doctors and nurses worked to keep pace with the injured brought in by ambulance crews. Bombs hit three other hospitals, demolishing a wing of one of them.

In addition to the usual incendiary explosives, earth-shaking explosions told that the raiders were using their biggest bombs.

A communiqué by the air ministry and ministry of home security said that although the raiders were never over London in great mass flights at any time during the night, they kept coming in "successive relays."

Public services were reported temporarily disrupted. Many homes and some mercantile buildings were damaged. Some of the business and public buildings hit were in the center of the city.

Heavy explosions shook the Associated Press building, knocking down a staff member watching the raiders and a photographer setting up his camera for a picture.

In the late afternoon coastal anti-aircraft batteries beat back some German planes, but as the sky darkened the Nazi fliers began to break through. The attack grew in intensity until midnight, when there was a lull. New Nazi squadrons appeared, however, and kept up the bombing until daylight.

Some of the attackers operated independently, some circled the city, others climbed high over London and dived past barrage balloons at the heart of the capital.

Bomb craters pock-marked many streets, forcing traffic to detour. Taxi cabs were in constant demand. Bus service was irregular. Some buses, abandoned during the raid, were smashed by direct hits or collapsed walls.

A direct hit on one bomb shelter in a southwestern section of the city was reported to have killed a number of persons.

Flames completed the ruin of one block of flats, hit squarely by bombs.

Rescue crews worked for several hours getting the injured out of the flaming wreckage and sending them to hospitals.

The total number of injured was not even estimated as the work went on in the hard hit sections. Casualties in central London, however, were reported to be light.

Hours after the night raiding, disappeared a time bomb exploded in a west London suburb.

Two high explosive bombs smashed the roof of an underground shelter in north London, causing an unestimated number of casualties. Rescue crews did not leave the area until the morning and took the injured to hospitals.

The further the night raiders came, the more they seemed to be aiming at targets of military importance and that any English civilians killed or injured were "unintentional victims."

Although Germany's biggest bombers blasted the city last night and today with a powerful new "super-bomb," these sources said the heaviest bombs had not yet been used.

British Show New Tank Defense

No invading German tanks are going to over run the British Isles if the newly erected tank barriers work as well under actual blitzkrieg conditions as they appear to in practice. This scene shows an "enemy" tank smashed by a camouflaged concrete wall. Home Guard members rush for positions to "welcome" tank's crew.

BRITISH BOMB HAMBURG PORT

German Papers Say Attack Made on Populated Part of City.

bombs on London without interruption in what Field Marshal Hermann Goering, air force chief, had proclaimed was the "historic hour in which for the first time the German Luftwaffe strikes at the heart of the enemy."

Establishment by Goering of special headquarters in northern France to direct the attack was taken to mean that the full weight of German military authority had been put behind the offensive.

No announcement was made of Adolf Hitler's whereabouts, as his movements are kept secret. Nazis said that if ever there was an announcement that his headquarters had been moved to the front it would mean, as it did in Poland, the beginning of a "big push."

Goering, the air force chief, said he had assumed personal command of the attack on Britain.

"I want to take this opportunity to say a few words at the historic moment when after all the British provocation attacks on Berlin, the fuhrer has decided to order reprisal blows on the British capital," he said during a radio newscast.

"I have personally assumed command of these victorious German fliers who for the first time are attacking London in broad daylight. Accompanied by brave fighter comrades, they will continue to carry orders to full execution."

There was no indication whether this was the beginning of the "final" attack on Britain. Nazis maintained that the "final" attack started Aug. 11 with mass air raids. Some quarters, however, call the present raids the beginning of a "new phase" of the war against Britain.

Their bombs simultaneously, during the day, bombs are usually released at intervals.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering assumed personal charge in northern France of the "reprisal raids" on England.

There was every indication the German offensive would continue to the full extent of the Reich's might.

For this assault, Goering called upon planes based in Germany, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, The Netherlands, and northern France, as well as in northwest Germany.

Goering himself brought the attack to the nation, declaring in a broadcast from his headquarters yesterday that Hitler had ordered the full force of the German empire in a personal assault on England.

Authorized sources insisted, however, that Nazi pilots aimed only at targets of military importance and that any English civilians killed or injured were "unintentional victims."

The further the night raiders came, the more they seemed to be aiming at targets of military importance and that any English civilians killed or injured were "unintentional victims."

At night they used a new German aircraft carrier over London at first, throwing tanks and other heavy weapons. The attack was sufficiently heavy to cause damage at different points and at the word of command, release all the aircraft around the small points scattered on the ground.

DEFENSE FUNDS MEASURE SIGNED

Biggest Appropriation Since Last War Provided In Equipment Bill.

money bill in the nation's peacetime history, has these for its broad objectives:

1. Complete the total equipment required for the army of 1,200,000 men which the pending conscription bill would raise.
2. Procure reserve stock of tanks, guns, artillery, ammunition and similar "critical" items, which require a long time to manufacture, for an additional 800,000 men.
3. Provide 14,394 more warplanes for the army and 4028 for the navy which, with those on hand and appropriated for would give the two forces approximately 35,000 planes of all types.
4. Permit work to start on the majority of the 200 warships projected under the 70 per cent naval expansion program designed to create the "two ocean" fleet.
5. Provide approximately $472,000,000 for new plant facilities, governmental and private, for the production of defense material.

Of the total, approximately $2,369,000,000 was in cash for both the army and navy, the balance being in contract authorizations for which congress would have to provide the funds later.

Approximately $520,000,000 in cash and $1,002,000,000 in contractual authority went to the army air corps, while the funds for naval aircraft included $170,000,000 cash and $375,000,000 in contract authorizations.

In addition to funds for munitions, the bill carried $220,000,000 chiefly for new housing for army and navy personnel and workers in defense industries, such as shipyards. Of this amount, $128,000,000 was earmarked for the National Guard to provide housing in connection with its recent mobilization.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said that the navy "within the hour of the signing of the bill will begin awarding contracts," and that the army would have contracts totaling $524,000,000 ready to award in a few days.

In a memorandum sent to the president, James V. Forrestal, acting navy secretary, said the department was prepared to allocate to navy yards and to award contracts for the construction of all combatant vessels included in the authorization bill and also to award contracts for ordnance, aircraft and accessories, and public

SHELBY—After a three months' silence, school bells rang some 1,500 Shelby youngsters back to class rooms and the blackboards today as the Shelby public schools opened following the annual summer vacation.

Although the students report to day to the school for home room assignments, classes will not be started until Tuesday morning, Supt. C. G. Keck disclosed.

All last week school officials were busy setting up schedules, determining size of classes, ironing out registration difficulties, and the hundred and one other things necessary before the schools open.

CONSCRIPTION 30-YEAR LIMIT INSISTED UPON

Senate Leaders Map Fight to Retain Lower Age Mark For Draft.

ment of the bill, is expected to take a hand if a deadlock develops in conference.

The war department, Chairman May said, wants the house age limits of 21 to 44, inclusive. Army officials, however, indicated that only a small percentage of men above the age of 30 would be called for the one year's training provided.

The 21-41 limit would give the war department a reservoir of 24,000,000 men from which to pick 1,000,000 - doubling the number under the senate proposal.

The war department, officials said, is ready to put draft machinery in motion as soon as the bill actually becomes law. Rep. Wadsworth (R) New York, co-author of the bill, assured the house that first drafters would not be called until Nov. 7 or 10. This would be just after election.

Under terms of both bills the president would name local draft boards before whom males between the age limits would register.

Specific exemption is provided for federal and state officials, ministers and divinity students, college students of the present year are given deferment until the end of the year, and provision is made for exemption of conscientious objectors.

One of the greatest problems under the draft will be exemptions because of dependents or necessary employment in industry or agriculture. Under terms of the Wadsworth bill the president authorized to defer training a service. Presumably most men will be exempt, but this question has not been settled, officials said.

The president is authorized to name local draft boards, consisting of three civilians each, upon recommendation of governor. An effort by Republicans in the house to require that the board be bipartisan was defeated. The president also is empowered to set up appeal boards.

Little controversy was expected between senate and house over a draft-industry proposals of bodies.

The senate adopted the draft Overton-Russell amendment which gave the president power to see industries and take complete ownership if they fail to cooperate in the defense program.

Modifying this proposal the house approved the Smith amendment which permits seizure of plants during the five-year life of the draft law, but the plants would be returned to the owner when government had completed its arms program. Rent would be paid.

Sen. Russell (D) Georgia, co-author of the senate amendment said that he is satisfied with the Smith substitute.

EXTRA DISTANCE IN HIS DRIVES—EXTRAS IN HIS CIGARETTE

YES, LARRUPING LAWSON LITTLE, NATIONAL OPEN CHAMPION, PREFERS THE CIGARETTE THAT GIVES THE "EXTRAS"—SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS

I TURNED TO CAMELS FOR EXTRA MILDNESS AND FOUND SEVERAL OTHER SWELL EXTRAS, TOO, INCLUDING EXTRA SMOKING. SLOWER BURNING SURE IS THE TICKET FOR STEADY SMOKING

● HOW does he do it? Form, timing, power, wrist action, control...he has them all—but Lawson Little has that extra measure of each which makes the difference between a good golfer and a champion golfer. Just as the extras in his favorite cigarette... Camel...make the difference between smoking and smoking pleasure at its best.

SMOKERS: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX
Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel below.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

● EXTRA MILDNESS
● EXTRA COOLNESS
● EXTRA FLAVOR

In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

"Camels burn slower and give me extra mildness. And Camels also give me something else I never found before—flavor that doesn't tire my taste." Yes, Camels give all the qualities you want in a cigarette plus an extra measure of each. The extra flavor of costlier tobaccos preserved by slower burning. The natural mildness and coolness of costlier tobaccos plus freedom from the irritating qualities of too-fast burning. And on top of extra pleasure—extra value (see right).

Richland County Tax Receipts Reach 10-Year High

RECEIPTS FOR 2 COLLECTIONS AT $1,300,000

Payments for Period Just Closed $30,000 Ahead of Year Ago.

With tax receipts already close to the $1,300,000 mark, Richland county probably will have a better real estate tax collection in 1940 than in any year in the past decade, figures compiled by Treasurer John E. Kolb showed today.

Receipts for the last half of the year are more than $30,000 ahead of the same period last year and delayed payments are still coming in. The first half collection this year topped the corresponding period of 1939 by nearly $36,000.

Real estate and special assessment payments so far in 1940 amount to $1,298,194. Receipts for all of last year totaled $1,232,565, or about $66,000 less.

Collections this year will be considerably under the 1929 figures, it was pointed out, since tax rates and valuations were much higher then than now.

Contributing to the increase this year are partial payments on delinquent accounts which are being accepted almost daily by the county treasurer under a state law. Taxes were paid earlier this year than in past years, and there was no late rush this time.

A general improvement in business and industrial conditions and the mailing of tax statements, making it easier to pay by mail, were given as other reasons for this year's gain in payments.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe does not expect to distribute the tax money for the last half of the year to county subdivisions until late in October. A number of school districts and municipalities, however, have already drawn in advance from the receipts to meet their operating expenses.

PAPER REFUSES ADS FOR DAVEY

LaRue News Says Bittering Statements 'Ridiculous and Misleading.'

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The LaRue (Marion county) News, a weekly newspaper published by Elmer Blazer, has refused Davey campaign advertising because "the statements made by J. "There is no scandal in the Bricker administration, as was heralded about the state when the Davey administration was identified with hot mix, truckless trucking, and false promises to old age pensioners," publisher Blazer wrote Davey's Cleveland advertising firm.

The publisher said he would not give publicity to the Davey charges against Bricker even though paid for it.

Trans-Atlantic airlines powered "for life" by two pounds of a new fuel were forecast at the opening sessions today. William B. Stout, airplane and automobile designer from Detroit, described experiments being conducted to isolate element much cheaper than uranium.

"Two pounds of this new element would drive an airplane back and forth across the Atlantic for the duration of a man's life," Stout said. "If some man can discover that, he will do more for the world than all the Hitlers, Mussolinis or Roosevelts."

He said the current international conflict has its battlefronts in the laboratory as well as in military sectors. He cited a rumor that German scientists are experimenting feverishly to uncover the secret of practical atomic power, a force which would put almost unlimited strength in the hands of its discoverer.

Bandits Complain License Tag Taken From Stolen Auto

COVINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Fleeing from a downtown building after an unsuccessful hold-up attempt, two bandits encountered a traffic policeman looking over their parked automobile.

He pointed out the car had only one license plate.

So the patrolman advised the men to report the theft and give them directions how to reach police headquarters.

They drove away but not to the police station.

COUNCIL MEETS ON STREET JOB

Lawmakers Called to Act on Legislation to Improve Walter Avenue.

City council will meet in special session tomorrow night for the purpose of approving legislation to pave Walter avenue.

The meeting was called by council's street committee of which George Berg, C. N. Shultz and Harry Emmens are members.

After reviewing the proposal to pave the street at a session Saturday morning committee members decided to call the legislators into session at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

The proposal calls for the paving of the street from Sturges avenue to Wood street along with the construction of combination curbs and gutters.

Preliminary legislation was approved at the Aug. 6 meeting but could not be acted upon at the Sept. 3 session because the 30 days required by law had not elapsed. The street committee, anxious to get the contract awarded for the project and the work completed before winter called the council meeting.

In addition, there will be several petitions and communications of a minor nature to be considered.

WALK TO WORK EXCITING IN BOMB-POTTED LONDON STREETS

By H. L. PERCY

LONDON—(AP)—What normally is a routine trip became an expedition today.

I left my apartment in a south London suburb to go to the United Press office about six miles away, during the night air raid. Not a bus, street car, train or taxicab was operating. The streets were deserted. I had to walk.

The blackout had been nullified by the rosy glow which filled the sky. Fires gave everything a pinkish tinge. I heard a German plane overhead. Searchlights were flickering around it. Then I heard a crackle high in the sky like a firecracker, and then a shriek. I flung myself flat on the sidewalk and felt that on the sidewalk when the bomb exploded a good distance away.

Smoke rose from it against the pink sky.

From then on my walk to the office was a succession of ups and downs. It seemed as if I was being hunted. I cannot remember how many times I stopped down and got up to find that bombs had dropped a long way away.

Down a side street, behind some houses, a fire was shooting up from the spot where the first bomb that missed me had fallen.

What appeared to be a barrage balloon was falling in flames. It trudged on past air raid wardens and policemen, sheltering in doorways, who were the only humans abroad.

At one corner a policeman stopped me and asked where I was going. I said I was going to work. He asked where. I told him. Then he said I would have to make a detour of about half a mile because the street ahead had been cordoned off.

The detour route was unlucky. Three times within five minutes I had to flop as screaming bombs seemed heading straight for me.

Getting back on my route, I was stopped again by a policeman, this one armed with a rifle—the first time in my life I have seen an armed London bobby. He wanted to inspect my identification card. Then he passed me on.

Things quieted for a while as the Germans shifted to another quarter. A couple of street cars rumbled past, but not in my direction. I hugged houses and stores all the way.

On one main street I had to step off into the street around cordoned spots. At one of these a bomb had shorn off half of a house. Another had gouged a big piece out of a block of tenements, leaving the interior walls, the pictures on them and the furniture in plain sight.

Thenceforward nothing much happened although planes passed overhead repeatedly and once I dived down only to realize that what I had heard was not a bomb, but the rumbling of a train passing over a bridge.

FBI CHIEF SAYS 'FIFTH COLUMN' MENACES U. S.

Urges Law Enforcement Drive as Means of Stopping Trojan Horse.

(By United Press)

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation told the 37th annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police today that this nation and hemisphere is "menaced" by fifth column activities.

"That there is a 'fifth column' in America is an acknowledged reality; that it does menace America is an established fact; that it must be met is the determination of every decent American," Hoover said in an address opening the convention.

"A 'fifth column' of destruction following in the wake of confusion, weakening the sinews of a nation and paralyzing it with fear can be met only by the nation-wide offensive of all law enforcement. All America must determine that these foreign interlopers shall not establish themselves behind mask-making fronts."

Hoover, whose audience included a number of Latin American police officials, said that the law enforcement agencies in the United States are better prepared to meet the challenge of foreign agents now than they were during the World war.

"The effectiveness of our efforts cannot be gauged by screaming headlines of dramatic arrests of spies, saboteurs and subverters," he said. "Best results cannot be obtained by hasty statements or sweeping accusations against individuals or groups without legal and competent evidence to support such charges."

SILENT BANDIT GETS $371, FLEES

Hands Stick-Up Victim Note, Waves Revolver.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A silent colored bandit who gave his instructions in writing was sought today for the robbery of $371 from the office of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric company.

Waving a revolver, the bandit pushed a note written on wrapping paper toward John W. Parker, teller at the company office. The note read:

"Stickup. Give me the money from both drawers. Go sit down for five minutes. Give this note back to me."

Parker said the bandit never spoke a word.

JURIES CALLED IN RED PROBE; MARRIOTT DELAYS QUIZ HERE

While the Richland county election board today awaited the return of Communist petitions from Columbus for a final check here, authorities in several Ohio counties prepared to submit charges of misrepresentation of the petitions to grand juries for investigation.

Richland County Prosecutor G. W. Marriott said other business would delay the start of his personal investigation of charges here, but he added that he planned to "look into the matter" this week.

At Springfield, Prosecutor J. A. Novus said he would call the Clark county grand jury into session the week of Sept. 22 to probe complaints there.

Secretary of State George Neffner said he mailed the petitions to the county election boards today after making photographic copies of them in Columbus for the Dies committee.

Admitting that he is one of the three Richland county WPA workers who signed a Communist petition, Charles Miller, R. D. 2, today repeated his denial of Communist affiliations.

Miller said he sent a sworn statement of denial to the state WPA office in Columbus which announced Saturday that three WPA workers in Richland county had signed the petitions.

"I wish to state again that I am not a Communist and never will be," Miller said. "The American form of government is good enough for me, and I stand ready to defend our country and our flag in case of invasion."

More than a dozen of the 48 signers in the county complained that the Communist petitions were represented to them as favoring more old age pensions, the Bigelow plan and lower taxes.

KEEP TO RIGHT IN CHURCH PEWS

Members Aren't Sure How Quaint Custom Started.

PLEASUREVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Every person attending the Baptist church in this town of 300 sits on the right-hand side.

The custom has been observed so long that even the oldest members are unable to remember exactly how it started. However, the most plausible reason is that the church was constructed to seat almost twice as many persons as there are in the congregation, and the members began sitting together on one side to avoid being scattered over the large room.

Pews on the left-hand side are practically new.

DOGS OF THE STORM. COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Three pups born to Mrs. E. M. Miller's pet dog during the height of a South Carolina coastal hurricane have been appropriately named "Storm," "Mr." and "Hurricane."

Declares It Has Been Years Since Felt So Good Till Finding the Right Medicine. Relieved Constipation, Stomach Upsets, and Other Troubles.

Mrs. Frank Knipp, residing at 35 1/2 North Main street, Mansfield, says, "Constipation kept me feeling so bad that neither meal-time nor bedtime were pleasures to look forward to. This constipated condition kept my stomach upset with acid indigestion and most everything lay heavy, turned to sour gas and ruffed up in my throat. Felt like there was a lump on my chest and I often had sick headaches and was so nervous that I couldn't get to sleep for hours after going to bed. Next morning I'd feel lumpy as a rug with no energy to go to work."

"Sometimes I'd feel bilious with spots dancing before my eyes and when I stooped over I'd have to steady myself. I had little pimples on my skin."

Brides - To - Be Given Parties Over Weekend

Misses Hershey, Sarka Feted At Events, Honor Others.

THE week-end was a popular time for a variety of nuptial parties, and several brides-to-be were feted. Friends of Miss Mildred Hershey were invited to the home of Miss Esther McNamara's sister near Sullivan for a bathroom shower Saturday evening. Miss McNamara and Miss Kalopi Tatakis were the hostesses. Prizes, which were presented to the honoree, were won by Miss Grace Bonnell and Miss Theresa Schisler. A two-course luncheon was served at a long table decorated with yellow and green. A ribbon led the honoree to her shower gifts, and the hostesses presented her with a scales.

Miss Grace Miller, Lynchburg, Va., was a guest. Tonight Mrs. John Calhoun and Miss Gladys Hershey are entertaining at the Colonial Guest House for Miss Hershey. She will become the bride of Edgar J. Berry at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the South Main Street Evangelical church with Rev. C. L. Kern officiating. An open house reception will be held immediately following the ceremony at the bridegroom's home, 588 West Fourth street.

Miss Betty Sarka was feted Saturday night by her aunt, Mrs. George Ellish, 44 McPherson street. Dinner was served at a long table at 6 o'clock, with games being played later in the evening. The hostess presented Miss Sarka with a gift of linen.

Miss Sarka will become the bride of William J. Yosick, Shelby, at the Most Pure Heart of Mary Catholic church Sept. 21 at 9 a. m.

There were 40 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan, 55 Raleigh avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zeitler. A picnic dinner was served in the recreation room at long tables decorated with pink and white. A miniature bride and groom, and flowers completed the decorative note.

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented. Guests were present from Nashville, Loudonville, and Mansfield. Mrs. Zeitler is the former Miss Grace Strang of Loudonville.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stockwell, 438 Beethoven street, entertained yesterday with a family dinner and shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Stockwell, Akron. Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell were married Aug. 19 at Cattsburg, Ky. The bridegroom and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stockwell, formerly lived in Mansfield.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stockwell and children, Paul and Martha, Marietta, Mrs. Sarah A. Smith, Chancellersville; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Herold and son, Bruce, Akron and Miss Beth Greenlegh, Athens.

Colleges Near and Far Lure Mansfield Co-Eds

As the important "freshman week" draws nearer and nearer at all the colleges and universities in the United States more of Mansfield's young women prepare to leave by train, bus and motor for the campuses of their choice. Shown at the top left is Miss Frances Brown, 560 West Third street, who is taking a moment's relaxation before getting ready to leave Sept. 16 for classes at Ohio university at Athens. The young woman looking over wearing apparel in the picture at the top right is Miss Mary Alice Mead, 53 Wolfe avenue, who is enrolling as a freshman at Ohio State university at Columbus late this month. Miss Frances Ann Coffman, lower left, was engrossed in her scrapbook at the time this picture was made, but soon she will be getting ready to leave for her first year at Sullens college at Bristol, W. Va. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E.

Coffman, Lind avenue. Miss Margie Schwein, 455 Marion avenue, has already started to pack some of her college togs. She leaves Sept. 15 for Mount Union college at Alliance.

Informally Speaking...

Sept. 9, 1940.

Lucy, dear:

RIGHT about now is the time when I feel most envious of the folks who waited until this month to take their vacations, because already mine seems too long past, and I wish that it were starting all over again. . . . Some of the smarties who saved their vacations for September were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fischer, as I had a card from them this morning from Mobile, Ala. . . . They're down there now following the Azalea trail and visiting the Bellingrath gardens. . . . So all I can say is that they're mighty lucky.

Marianne

Some other Mansfielders who've just concluded a pleasant trip are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wampler and their son, Owen Miller and Mrs. J. H. Dir. . . . They motored through Georgia and Alabama and also visited in the Smoky mountains. . . . Mrs. Beatrice Balyeat, Mrs. L. K. Charles and Dorothy Charles have just returned from a ten-days' trip to the World fair in New York City, Long Island and New Jersey.

YOU'LL have to try to come over to our town for a visit this week, Lucy, because some of your old friends are here. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paulson (she was the former Ruth Garver) and their baby daughter arrived from their home in Portsmouth last night to spend two weeks with Mrs. Paulson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Garver. . . . And another arrival yesterday evening was Kenneth H. Kiplinger, who now lives in St. Louis, Mo. . . . He attended school here, you know, while his father, Dr. O. L. Kiplinger, was pastor of the First Congregational church. . . . He's here for a week's stay with his mother, whose home is on Sturges avenue now.

There are trunks, suitcases and books everywhere at Mr. and Mrs. Paul McConnell's home these days, as their son, Jim, and daughter, Elsie, have been getting ready for school. . . . Jim left this morning for Washington and Lee university. . . . This will be his senior year, and he expects it to be a busy one, because he is editor-in-chief of the yearbook. . . . Wednesday morning Elsie is going down to Lynchburg, Va., where she will be a sophomore at Randolph-Macon Woman's college.

AND speaking of collegians, Lucy, a good many of them went out to Greencastle, Ind. yesterday to attend DePauw university. . . . Jane Miller and Jane McFadden will be freshmen, while Bob Spear, Bob Murphy, Steve Olin, Dick Shaw, Harold Duda and Harold Williams will be upper classmen.

The women's units of the Methodist churches are being re-organized just now, and so the final meeting of the old societies at Central Methodist was held one afternoon last week. . . . And it was at that time that Mrs. B. W. Forkner, retiring treasurer of the Ladies' Aid society, was honored with a gift in appreciation of her services to the group in that office for the past 23 years. . . . A new organization, the Women's Division of Christian Service will get under way next week, with election of officers on the 19th.

DID you know that Gwen Taylor has gone to Dennison to teach in the high school there? A graduate of Western Reserve and New York universities, this is her first teaching post, and her subjects include art and English. . . . Ann Shadwell left today for her home in Louisville, Ky., after having spent the past two months here at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clauss. . . . Week-end guests of Henrietta Frank's were Regina Frank of Buffalo, N. Y. and Bertha McGregor of Rochester, N. Y. They were en route to the national florists convention in Cincinnati.

That's all the news for now, Lucy, so let me hear from you real soon.

Lovingly,

Marianne
